The society, the only one of its kind in this part of the state, has made gerat preparations for this event and the showing made will be of the best. All flower lovers in this part of the Peninsula should take advantage of the opportunity afforded them to see what is being done in Menlo Park in the way of flower cultivation.

The public is cordially invited to attend and there will be no admission charge.

The Menlo Park Horticultural Society is a live wire in the flowed industry and when it attempts to put anything over it is always done right, and thi soccasion will be no exception.

The various members of the Society have made a big name for this part of the peninsula, and the state in fact, by their work and the high grade blooms that are produced in the various gardens in this vicinity. A visit to the flower show which they have gone to such pains and labor will be well worth any one's time and will also help to prove the the Menlo Park Horticultural Society that their work is being appreciated by the public.

Local Street Paving Will Soon Be Started

In an interview with Councilman Alexander Walker, the Menlo Park Recorder is informed that street work in this city will soon begin to take concrete form and that the city streets will begin to be worthy of the name.

Walker says that he has succeeded i ngetting all of the residents on what he terms "his street" signed up for a real substantial pavement.

The pavement in question will be the black pavement suggested and recommended by City Engineer George Kneese. The paving to extend from curb to curb. Gutters will be put in and concrete sidewalks will also be laid on the street.

When these imphovements are accomplished Midway avenue will be the best street in the city of Menlo aPrk.

Walker is entitled to great credit for his untiring work along this line. He has not only secured the signature of all of the residents on Midway avenue for the paving of that street but has also repaired the ohles in all of the existing oiled roadways in the city and is repairing the macadam streets at this time.

Mis Bair and Mrs. Kershaw spent two days last week visiting Santa Cruz Watsonville, where they spent a pleasant evening with Mr. and Mrs. Sinfield, Monterey, and Carmel. They were enthusiastic about the first theare in California at Monterey, Robert Louis Stevenson's old home and the many other historical landmarks that are there. They thought the 17 mile drive, one of the most beautiful in the state and reported delightful weather. They came home over the Hecker Pass, wich was a little rough because of such heavy traffic, but beautifully graded.

They spent two weeks in August up the Redwood Highway, Oregon Caves, Crater Lake, and back over the Pacific Highway, by way of Sacramento. They were very enthusiastic over the beautiful scenery, the Redwoods, the mountains, ocean, the caves and Lake. They say the roads were boulevards except where they had to detour over the old highway for short stretches.

That Everlasting Hungry Wail

Thomas Nast in Harpers Weekly, Oct. 10, 1880

THE presidency has long been the ambition of Tammany Hall. When Thomas Nast drew this cartoon almost half a century ago, "Honest John" Kelly looked toward the White House with covetous eyes. So had Tweed and later so did Croker and Murphy. It was chiefly as a result of Nast's cartoons against Tammany Hall that public opinion was aroused and the "Tweed ring" met with disaster. His cartoons aroused Tammany more than all the editorials leveled against it and Nast was offered half a million dollars to halt them and "study art in Europe." Refusing, he continued to draw with a courageous hand and a perceiving and prophetic eye. Nast originated the Republican elephant, the Democratic donkey and the Tammany tiger.

The new hospital, like the present one will be under the guidance of Stanford University, and it is planned to allow the university the privilege of purchasing the hospital at some future time if it so desires. Hopes were expressed by the committee that a large portion of the amount necessary for the new hospital can be raised by public donation. A bond issue, it is said, may be found necessary for the remainder. The new institution will be just twice the size of the present one. Plans have been put forward to dispose of the present site for $35,000.

The Chamber of Commerce Committee consist of Rr. Russell Lee, chairman; Franklin P. Nutting, George F. Morrell, J. E. McDowell, E. C. Thoits, A. E. Roth and Ray W. Smith.

STANFORD PROSPECTS GOOD FOR CHAMPIO

Three down and three to go is Stanford's position in her r the Pacific Coast Conference championship. The Cards have toppled three Conference oppo Oregon, U. C. L. A., and Idaho have three mighty tough hurd clear yet—U. S. C., Washingto California.

The Cardinals Conference to date is as follows:

Stanford 26	Oregon
Stanford 45	U. C. L
Stanford 47	Idaho

118

That the Conference champio battle will be fought out entire the State of California is practi a foregone conclusion, now. Stan U. S. C. and California are the three who have not been beaten the latter two fought to a scor tie at Berkeley last Saturday. C sequently, the U. S. C.-Stanford g as Los Angeles, November 3rd, and California-Stanford contest at Ber ley, November 24th, will decide race.

With a non-conference game sch uled against Fresno State Coll at Stanford next Saturday, "P Warner will probably give his reser a chance to start. The "Old Fox" pointing his men, now, for the tou Trojan tilt two weeks hence, and keeping the squad at work until da every night.

Warner saw the Bear-Trojan frac last Saturday, and was accompanie to Berkeley by his entire squad. Th Cardinal coach returned here with healthy respect for both California an U. S. C. and has declared that hi boys will have to be at their best t beat either team. "Pop" was well satisfied with the way his men played in defeating Idaho by the surprisingly big score of 47-0 but says that they will have to do even better against the Trojans and Bears.

With the all important game against the University of Southern California but two weeks away, the Stanford grid eleven got down to serious business here this week. Warner gave a hint of possible surprises in store for the Trojans by revoking all practice passes and barring the gates to all comers and this policy will continue until the U. S. C. contest at least.

Judging from the Idaho game, the Cardinal line is pretty well set for the season, barring injuries. Muller seems to have won the right to be called a regular at left end but the occupant of the other flank posiion is somewhat in doubt. It he can come back from his injuries, Harder will probably get the place but Davidson and Bush will be pressing him all the time.

The problem in the backfield is to find a place for Lewis, who can play any one of three positions— left half, right half, or quarterback. Lewis' playing in the last three games has been so satisfactory that he has pretty well established himself as a regular in one position or another. His judgment in calling plays is better than that of any man on the squad and Warner will probably figure on using him a large part of the time.

Frank Wilton, speedy little left half back, and Lud Frentrup, his first substitute, will be in good shape for the Trojan game and each will probably see action. Bob Sims, one of the most dependable players on the squad, had been considered a cinch regular at the right half until Lewis made himself so valuable but the latter may force Bob to divide the starting assignments.

Captain Hoffman, the Cards' All-American candidate is, of course, a fixture at fullback but Bill Simpkins' showing against Idaho last Friday indicates that the Stanford skipper has a mighty capable substitute.

We ould do something to preserve our oded areas for posterity".

Plans of Roth have been accepted th acclaim by San Mateo county vic leaders. They point out that a rge portion of the road running thru his territory is owned by he city of an Francisco through its purchase f the Spring Valley property. If San rancosco would lead the way by de- laring its property, the way would be pen for furtherance of the plan, they declare.

Importance of the new Bayshore highway was also stressed by Roth. This road is to be an example for fu- ture construction of highways in the state ,he declared. It is the first thru road to be constructed away from bus- iness districts and heavily populated territories.

The new road will be a boon to com- merce, as it is virtually an extension of the Embarcadero in San Francisco.

Ultimately it is planned to extend the highway to San Jose and up the east side of San Francisco bay to Oak- land. And this road, connected with bridges, will be of inestimable strateg- ic value to commerce and military of- ficials, it is said.

BORAH PRAISES HOOVER RECORD AS A LEADER

Veteran Senator Finds Candidate Singularly Fitted to Deal With Present-Day Problems.

PUBLIC SHOWS INTEREST

Biggest Issues Are Agriculture, Conservation, Maintenance of Constitution and Simplification of Government.

By Senator William E. Borah

IN many respects this is an excep- tional campaign. I have never taken part in a campaign in which the issues were so extensive in num- ber, and at the same time so serious in their import.

If the discussions can be kept upon a level with the issues involved it will be a campaign worthy of the intelli- gence and patriotism of the great American electorate. In the cam- paigns of the past we have had our problems of government, of human freedom,—great political questions. We now have our economic problems and they are no less vital to the hap- piness, and, in my judgment, to the freedom of the people, than the is- sues which have been settled by the voters in other campaigns.

My feeling is that people look seri- ously upon the issues of the cam- paign. They feel deeply. There is more voluntary political activity than I have ever seen in a campaign. This interest is a healthy condition of af- fairs,—it is the most gratifying fea- ture thus far of the contest.

Voters Independent

It may not be quite orthodox to say so, but I have also discovered an independence of thought and action upon the part of the voters that is refreshing as well as encouraging. No political party is entitled to win unless its candidates and their posi- tions upon public questions command the confidence of the majority of the electorate. Instead of a political party fearing, it ought to covet the earnest and sincere initiative upon the part of the individual voters rela- tive to public questions.

The Republican party has nomi- nated a candidate whose intellectual and moral equipment, whose years of arduous things done and achieved, singularly and especially fit him to organize and harness these great economic forces in harmony with sound business, and, at the same time, in harmony with the rights of the masses.

Born in humble station, acquainted with adversity, taking his steps slow- ly but with a sure purpose, now a master of economic principles and theories, an engineering, organizing and directing mind, tested at least under the responsibilities of an awful catastrophe and unheard of emer- gencies, a humanitarian whose vigi- lance and foresight saved the lives of millions—his record and his quali- fications are submitted with confi- dence to the consideration of the American electorate.

Outstanding Figure

When the great War closed, second only to the Commander-in-Chief and to the General in charge of the forces, the outstanding and impressive figure was Herbert Hoover. Through his brilliant, tireless and resourceful leadership not only were the fighting forces fed, but countless thousands of women and children, even across the fighting lines, were snatched from the skeleton clutch of famine.

A great newspaper of a different political faith, speaking of one, and only one, of his many performances during the War, has said: "Whatever Mr. Hoover may do in improving our own commerce and bettering com- mercial relations in the world today, he may have the consciousness that he has written the brightest chapter that any one man has written in the history of the War."

This was in reference to one mat- ter. There are others. Whether com- posing the war passions of contending foes in order that he might be per- mitted to feed hungry children, or contending with diplomats and gen- erals for the privilege of passing on food to the helpless and the dying, or setting up the machinery in a foreign land and among a suspicious people with which to feed daily eleven mil- lion famine-stricken men and women, whether breaking down and controll- ing the war spirit that he might care for those on the other side of the conflict, whether finding markets for accumulated food products at the close of the War, or organizing and bringing into marked efficiency a great department of the Government, he has met responsibility with superb confidence and continuing success.

Three presidents have called him to great undertakings. Three presi- dents have assigned him to extraor- dinary tasks. He did not fail them. I venture to believe that the Ameri- can people are going to assign him to a still greater undertaking and still greater responsibility.

A man with his record, with his creed, can safely be entrusted with the affairs of the American people. He possesses that kind of ability which rises to meet the emergency. He was clothed with all but auto- cratic power and he did not abuse it. He was trusted as few men have been trusted and he was faithful to the trust.

PICTORIAL LIFE OF HERBERT HOOVER — No. 8 — By Satterfield

1. After college, Hoover studied the practical side of mining with pick and shovel in Nevada.

2. Promoted to be a field engineer, he made good at a variety of jobs in the sage brush.

3. He was sent to Australia to organize a group of mines there along American lines.

4. While at his desk in Australia there came a call to China. This appealed to Hoover's imagination.

Borah Pays Tribute

Describing Herbert Hoover as "one of the great administrators of all times," Senator William E. Borah of Idaho declared that "the issues of this campaign are every day problems, such as farm relief, cheaper transportation, development of waterways, a public utilities policy, conservation of electric power, and the maintenance of our Constitution as the people had written it."

Discontent Breeds Content

We try to make every boy discontented with his lot, and we achieve the most contented and unified and stable country in the world.—Herbert Hoover.

Hoover Is Best Bet

The likelihood is that, under Herbert Hoover's direction, agriculture would achieve stabilization more quickly, more certainly, with fewer waste motions, and with less knocking and backfiring and gear-grinding than under the direction of any other human being.—Minneapolis Tribune.

Economy

By OGDEN L. MILLS
Undersecretary of the Treasury

ECONOMY in government means not just saving, but wise spending. It means the elimination of waste, the building up of a real sense of responsibility on the part of public servants, and the development of a spirit of unselfish service. Economy in this sense attains the dignity of a fundamental principle of government.

One of the great contributions made by Coolidge to the cause of good government has been the application of that principle with sincerity and thoroughness.

Such a policy is in happy contrast to that followed in New York State under Governor Smith, where during a period of abundant revenue, we have seen an enormous debt expansion, the breaking down of all wise pay-as-you-go policies, and the financing of recurring expenditures by bond issues.

The battle for economy in government is no single dramatic action. It is a continuing and continuous process. Nearly all that has been accomplished in the last eight years could be offset in the first years of a wasteful and inefficient administration.

Tammany Thinking

Big John Kennedy, the Tammany leader in Alfred Lewis's novel, The Boss, as he was about to go into the retirement of death, said to his protege, "Think first, last and all the time of yourself. You may not be of account to others, but you're the whole box of tricks to yourself. Don't give a man more than he gives you. Folks who don't stick to that steer land either in bankruptcy or Bloomin'dale." That has always been the pragmatic creed of Tammany Hall.—M. R. Werner in Tammany Hall.

Hooverism

The best teaching is not done out of a book, but out of a life.—Herbert Hoover.

Jobs for 3,000,000

More than 2,000,000 families in the United States earn their living today producing goods for export, and another million families earn their living in the manufacture of raw materials which we import in exchange for our exports.—HERBERT HOOVER in his Newark speech.

SEES RUIN IN TARIFF STAND OF THE DEMOCRATS

Veteran Engineer Recalls Bread Lines of Previous Administration.

FLAYS GOVERNOR SMITH

Leland Declares His Election Would Be Greatest Calamity Which Could Befall Nation.

"We tried this Democratic free trade policy in 1893, and those of us who can remember the bread lines, the poverty and the suffering have no desire to repeat the experiment," says Henry M. Leland, veteran engineer of Detroit, Mich., in a letter to Chairman Work of the Republican National Committee. "We tried it again in 1913 with similar results, but were saved from further disaster only by the world war.

"Al Smith, together with Tammany Hall, which he now dominates, and the members of the Democratic party in the past have stood like adamant for either absolute free trade or a tariff for revenue only.

"If tariff schedules are reduced to a point where manufacturers in the cheap-labor countries of Europe can bring their products into this country and undersell our products, there is then only one of two things to do—reduce wages or close down plants throwing millions of our workmen into idleness. The want and distress are absolutely indescribable.

"I have studied the history of Al Smith since he was a boy mingling with other boys on the sidewalks of New York. I have scanned his record during the twelve years he was a member of the Legislature of New York, and his record as Governor of that state. To my mind it would be difficult to imagine a greater calamity that could befall this country than his election to the Presidency.

"As this letter would be too lengthy if I should attempt to catalogue a complete list of my reasons for the foregoing statement, I will confine myself to only one or two of the economic reasons for my convictions.

"One of these is the Protective Tariff. Al Smith, together with Tammany Hall which he now dominates, and the members of the Democratic party in the past have stood like adamant for either absolute free trade or a tariff for revenue only. Is it reasonable now to expect the leopard to change his spots?

Affects 30 Million

"Our thirty million wage earners work altogether the shortest hours and receive by far the largest wages of any wage earners on earth. If tariff schedules are reduced to a point where manufacturers in the cheap-labor countries of Europe can bring their products into this country and undersell our own products, there is then one of two things for our industries to do and that is reduce wages to meet that competition, or close down their plants throwing millions of workmen into idleness. Our people largely spend as they go; in fact many of them spend far in advance of their incomes, and the want and distress which would result from the cutting off of their incomes, and the result to their creditors, are absolutely indescribable.

"Abraham Lincoln said that if we bought a stove or a locomotive made in Europe, then we had the stove or the locomotive, but Europe had the money.

"On the other hand, if we bought a stove or locomotive which was made in the United States, then we not only had the stove or locomotive, but we also had the money with which it was bought. This is a simple problem, but it is far-reaching and of the greatest possible significance to the workmen of America.

"The difference is the difference between the 'full dinner pail' and the 'empty dinner pail,' between a nation of many millions of well-paid thrifty citizens as against millions of people struggling with poverty.

"Not since this nation was born has the electorate had the opportunity to draft as its head a man the equal of Herbert Hoover, a man so thoroughly equipped by experience, judgment, ability and integrity to cope successfully with the vast multiplicity of problems which confront us, and capable of leading us onward and upward to further greatness.

"With that opportunity, it is inconceivable that an enlightened citizenry would allow itself to be set backward a half a century by surrendering its destiny to Tammany Hall with its unsavory record of Booze, Boodle and Bunk."

Wells and America

Mr. H. G. Wells made a survey of the United States a number of years ago. In the book, The Future in America, which he published as the result of his research, he asked: "Is the average citizen honest? Is he a rascal in humbug and grain? If he is, the future can needs be no more than a monstrous social disorganization in the face of divine opportunities." Whatever the future may have in store for us, Mr. Wells' phrase is a good description of large portions of the past as seen with Tammany Hall as a focus.—M. R. Werner in Tammany Hall.

Golden State
News of Interest to All

Property value in Alameda county is $529,083,095, according to a statement issued recently by the state controller's office. The value ranks Alameda county as the third wealthiest in the state, headed only by San Francisco and Los Angeles. Real estate value is placed at $216,772,775, while improvements are estimated at $164,249,600. Personal property is valued at $64,030,725.

Members of the household of the late Luther Burbank, plant wizard, at Santa Rosa announced last week that the small one-room building formerly used as the office by Burbank, would be taken to Detroit, Mich., as an exhibit in the Ford Historical Museum. The announcement said Mrs. Burbank had donated the building to the museum, adding that it would be placed beside the first laboratory used by Thomas A. Edison.

Albert Bettens, manager of the Sacramento Tourist and Convention Bureau, announced last week that Sacramento has just been awarded the 1929 convention of the California Parent-Teacher Association, a conclave that will bring approximately 1,500 delegates and visitors to Sacramento. The convention wil be held from May 21st to 24th. The gathering will be one of the largest obtained for Sacramento next year and will bring together educators and those interested in education from all parts of the state.

Clarence S. Morrill, superintendent of the State Bureau of Criminal Identification, recently celebrated Discovery Day by discovering that California peace officers have discovered 10,352 bootleggers in the last five years. Morrill's discovery, following a survey of reports filed by police departments and sheriff's offices, also reveals that the annual number of prohibition law arrests has increased 800 per cent since 1923. Which proves, with the filing of nearly 5,000 liquor law charges in the last year, that California bootleggers are becoming more numerous, more careless or something, according to Morrill.

California will spend nearly $6,000,000 in the betterment of the Pacific Highway by the end of this current biennium, announces E. A. Crowley, general manager of the Pacific Highway Association, in quoting facts and figures from a report received from C. H. Purcell, state highway engineer. Work completed, under way or advertised, in carrying out plans for improving the Pacific Highway, aggregate $3,892,146.63, reports Purcell. Other work provided for in the present budget amounts to $1,979,473.75, he adds. The grand total, $5,871,620.38, will represent the reconstruction of 173.08 miles of this highway.

Four o'clock is the zero hour for accidents in most California factories. More industrial mishaps, the state compensation insurance department announced last week, occur at that hour than any other in the course of the day. Another peak hour for accidents, but not so pronounced as 4 p. m., when one-sixth of all injuries occur, is at 9 o'clock in the morning. Superintendents and foremen blame fatigue for the up-curve at 4 p. m. The morning peak is attributed to the possible loss of breakfast for having overslept. A hearty breakfast and a little additional care when fatigue manifests itself are recommended as two important preventives for accidents to work men.

Arrests for violating the prohibition law during the fiscal year ending June 30th were markedly more than double the arrests made during the preceding twelve-month period, and were nine times as great as for the fiscal year of 1923-24. Figures announced a few days ago by Clarence S. Morrill show a steady trend of arrests for violations of the dry statues ever since the enactment of the prohibition law, and today running afoul of the eighteenth amendmena is the second most common "crime" in California. It runs second only to vagrancy, which is regarded by police officers as the meagerest of offenses.

California now has 23,665 wards, 7,468 of them girls and women, in the fourteen state prisons, reformatories and hospitals, Earl E. Jensen, director of institutions, announced recently. In addition, Jensen said, 4,743 persons are on parole, 1,552 from the Folsom and San Quentin penitentiaries. Population of the fourteen state institutions was announced as follows: Sonoma State Home, 2,270; Pacific Colony, 127; Agnew Hospital, 2,023; Mendocino Hospital, 1,351; Napa Hospital, 2,823; Norwalk Hospital, 1,665; Patton Hospital, 2,963; Stockton Hospital, 3,126; Industrial Home for Adult Blind (Oakland), 120; Ventura School for Girls, 161; Preston School of Industry, 619; Whittier School for Boys, 311; Folsom Prison, 2,183; San Quentin Prison, 3,923.

Two $5,000,000 corporations, one a finance concern and the other an aviation company, last week filed incorporation papers with the Secretary of State. The Sierra Company, Los Angeles finance and investment organization, is headed by C. Brice Kearsley Jr. of Santa Monica and George E. Farrand, M. H. Shiel, Eula M. Lee and Claire Moorhead, all of Los Angeles. Western Air Express Corporation, aerial transportation company, formed under the laws of Delaware, announced H. M. Wright of Los Angeles as its California representative.

Governor C. C. Young's budget for the next two years will contain an allowance of slightly over $1,000,000 for permanent improvement at the seven state teachers' colleges, State Finance Director Alexander R. Heron announced last week. Reports on enrollment show 10 per cent increases at several of the colleges, with the gain in some of them running up to 21 per cent, Heron said.

Ignoring the old adage, "the woman pays," the California State Supreme Court was on record last week in San Francisco exactly opposite. In fact the court ruled that if a woman goes into business and loses money, friend husband is required to foot the bills. The decision, regarded as far-reaching in the annals of domestic law, was affirmed by four of the judges and protested by three. It was based upon the California principle of community property, which is shared by man and wife in this state.

Predictions that the dairy industry and the consuming public will demand additional legislation governing the manufacture and sale of ice milk were made last week by A. E. Reynolds, ice cream specialist of the State Department of Agriculture. Enforcing proper labeling and advertising of ice milk, a comparatively new product, has recently become a difficult problem for State authorities Reynolds said.

Reckless drivers and speeders take notice! Not only may drivers' licenses be revoked for persistent violations in the future, but your carelessness may cost you the use of your automobile. Such a possibility loomed recently when a proposal to revoke automobile license plates in addition to operators' permits as a penalty for reckless driving, received the enthusiastic endorsement of the Safety Department of the California Development Association.

More than 200,000 tourists, and among them 50,000 permanent "immigrants," came into California between July 1st and September 30th through the border service stations conducted by the state division of motor vehicles. In the three-month period, the division's records disclose 68,282 automobiles from states not immediately contiguous entered the Golden State, bearing an average of three persons to a car. This is an average of 742 automobiles per day.

Construction of a bridge by the Southern Pacific across Carquinez Straits has been authorized by the secretary of war, according to railroad officials in San Francisco. The bridge will take the place of the ferry now operated between Port Costa and Benicia. The cost is estimated at $12,000,000. Announcement of plans to build the bridge was made by the Southern Pacific several months ago. The bridge is to be concrete and is to carry double tracks. There will be ten spans of 408 feet in length, the average clearance above high water will be seventy feet. Train operation from Washington and Oregon will be cut ten minutes.

Improvements for the University of California totaling $10,000,000 and involving the erection of an auditorium and museum on the Berkeley campus were announced last week by Robert G. Sproul, controller of the institution in an address before the Berkeley Downtown Association. Sproul revealed that the university has been promised $1,000,000 by an old friend and this amount will be available for the improvements also. Included in the improvements outlined by the controller were the Giannini Hall for agriculture research, the $1,750,000 Rockefeller International House, a $1,000,000 life science building and a new $500,000 infirmary.

Permanent improvement appropriations totaling more than $1,000,000 will be included in the 1929-21 budgets for the state teachers colleges, whose enrollments for 1929 have increased on an average of 10 per cent. This announcement was made a few days ago by A. R. Heron, state directors of finance, who said the permanent improvement allotments wil be slightly in excess of those for the present biennium. Heron declared the enrollment increase of the colleges is remarkable in view of the higher educational requirements put into effect this year, including the four years' course for graduation. In some instances he said the enrollment increases have been as high as 21 per cent over last year.

Reports received in San Francisco from Los Angeles state that the Pacific Gas and Electric Company has closed a contract with the Mexican Seaboard Oil Company for construction of a 240-mile pipe line to bring natural gas to the San Francisco region. The estimated cost is $15,000,000. The Pacific Gas and Electric Company officials at San Francisco refused to comment on the report other than to reiterate their statements of several weeks ago that the company has plans under way to pipe natural gas into San Francisco, but the plan is not completed as yet. The reported pipe line would include branches to serve the various communities along its route.

Advertising benefits which California will derive from the Olympic Games when they are held in the State in 1932 will alone more than offset the $1,000,000 State aid toward the cost of staging the games, it was declared recently by Paul Shoup, executive vice president of the Southern Pacific and a director of the California Tenth Olympiad Association. Shoup's statement was in support of the Olympic Games measure, which will be submitted at the coming election as Proposition No. 2 on the ballot.

Mrs. Henry Ford Calls Hoover Choice of the Nation's Women

Wife of Automobile Manufacturer Says Issues of Campaign Are the Most Important Since Universal Suffrage.

Mrs. Henry Ford believes that most American women who love their homes and families will vote for Herbert Hoover in November.

So firmly convinced is Mrs. Ford that the isuse of this year's presidential election is "of exceptional importance to women" that she decided to express her views in the first interview on politics she has ever granted.

"The issue is beyond politics," she declared in her home in Dearborn, Michigan, to a representative of the Women's National Committee for Hoover of which Mrs. F. Louis Slade is chairman.

"I shall vote fo. Mr. Hoover and I believe most home-loving women will do likewise because he more than any other candidate seems interested in the problems of women and of the home."

So far as women, generally, are concerned, she explained, the basic issue of the election this year is closely connected with Mr. Hoover's unusual interest in their special concerns. In this sense, home-loving women throughout the land and particularly on the farms have a personal stake in November's battle of the ballot boxes.

"Mr. Hoover," Mrs. Ford continued, "seems to me to be the type of man who would do more than talk about helping in such important matters as social legislation.

"Never since women have had the vote has any presidential candidate given such convincing promise not by his words alone but by his record of achievement and by his t[illegible] of life of fulfilling the ideals which women cherish."

It was not a desire to enter the arena of politics which prompted her to declare her support for Hoover.

Not Politician

"I am not a politician," she remarked, "I helped to the best of my ability in the fight to get the vote Since we have had the vote, I have always been interested in politics but I have never participated in any direct personal activities in that direction.

"We are for Hoover because we like the kind of work he has already done. His achievement in helping the Mississippi flood sufferers was remarkable, considering the shortness of time. He has done lots of other admirable things.

"We women are tremendously interested in legislation which relates to children or anything to do with the home. We are interested in proper legislation and getting the proper men to put it through. Mr. Hoover seems to be the right sort of man."

"Mrs. Hoover's early life and Mr Hoover's in the old farm state of Iowa and on their present fine practical farm in California has helped them both to maintain a deep insight into farm conditions. Mr. Hoover realizes that it is of primary importance that life on the farms should be on the highest possible plane.

"Mr. Hoover will be doing a great thing if he succeeds in making the farm a better place to live on. He will earn the gratitude of thousands of women if he gives families on the farms the same sort of chance to lead a true good American life as most city families already have.

"This, you see, is outside of politics. Politics is too big a subject to discuss in a few minutes. This is true Americanism."

LINDY COMES OUT FOR HOOVER

Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh has assured Herbert Hoover of his support. The great American flyer and the former Secretary of Commerce came frequently in contact through Mr. Hoover's interest in civil aviation, the development of which came under his supervision.

ALAMEDA AND OAKLAND NOW JOINED BY TUNNEL

Dedication of the $5,000,000 George A. Posey Estuary tube connecting the cities of Alameda and Oakland will take place Saturday afternoon, October 27 at two thirty.

This tube is the largest pre-cast subaqueous tube in the world and was County Engineer George A. Posey, of Alameda County.

A solution to a transportation problem that has confronted the two cities for the past decade, the tube means much to handling of traffic across the estuary between Alameda and Oakland.

Heretofore the traffic between the two cities has been across ancient and inadequate bridges. The bridges complying with United States government requirements had to open every time a small boat approached. This meant a great delay to motor traffic between the two cities. Often time the bridges would be closed for twenty minutes to half an hour at a time, especially when a large vessel or fleet of ships desired to go up or down the estuary.

Rapid transportation is now assured.

Almost a mile in length the George traffic with sdewalks on each side the entire length, to take of pedestrian traffic.

Latest ventilating appliances have been installed assuring proper ventilation at all times, the tube will be open day and night.

For the past three years this giant undertaking has been under construction and Saturday's dedication marks a red letter day in the annals of Alameda history.

State, County and City officials and Chamber of Commerce leaders from all sections of California will participate in the dedication ceremonies.

Mayor Frank Otis of Alameda accompanied by members of the city council with President John C. Stannard and the Directors of the Alameda Chamber of Commerce will enter the tube from the Alameda side at two thirty Saturday afternoon. At the same hour Mayor John L. Davie of Oakland with President E. B. Field, and the Directors of the Oakland Chamber will enter from the Oakland entrance. The two parties will be received in the center of the tube by members of the Board of Supervisors of Alameda County headed by Charles W. Heyer, Chairman. Rabbi Rudolph I. Coffee will pronounce the invocation.

After exchanging felicitatons the two groups will return to the Oakland entrance of the Tube where dedication ceremonies will proceed. Speakers include Governor C. C. Young, Mayor Frank Otis of Alameda; Mayor John L. Davie, of Oakland; John F. Mullins Chairman of the tunnel and bridge committee of the Board of Supervisors Supervisor W. J. Hamilton, who fathered the tube project before the voters of Alameda county and the Board of Supervisors to a successful conclusion; District Attorney Earl Warren; John C. Stannard, President of the Alameda Chamber of Commerce and E. B. Field, President of the Oakland Chamber.

Handling details of the Tube dedication are the following prominent leaders of Alameda County, Supervisor W. J. Hamilton, chairman; Supervisor John F. Mullins, County Engineer George A. Posey, A. R. Linn, Manager of the Alameda Chamber of Commerce and A. L. Kennedy, acting secretary of the Oakland Chamber.

NEW PENINSULA HIGHWAY OPEN

Motrorists driving the San Francisco Peninsula will now have the Bayshore highway available as far as fifth avenue, San Mateo.

The new four and a quarter mile unit from Broadway, Burlingame, to San Mateo has been opened, and the automobile associations have marked with road signs the connections in Burlingame and San Mateo from the new highway to El Camino Real.
